

An exciting return to the Priory

After two years without any in-person student programs at the European Center in Talloires, we are very excited to welcome our Tufts in Talloires, Tufts in Annecy, and Tufts Summit students and faculty back to the Priory this summer! We know that students are particularly happy for the opportunity to finally be able to come to Talloires; the faculty are equally excited to bring their courses to life in the unique setting of our region. All of us are grateful to be able to continue to fulfill the mission of the MacJannets and to live the values that they embodied. As ever, we are grateful for your readership and your support of our work. We hope you'll follow our adventures this summer and beyond, and we hope to see you soon - perhaps even at the Priory.

Follow the adventure!

Chocolate Cake from Le Cottage

The European Center is fortunate to have many wonderful neighbors, including the Bise family and their team at the Hôtel Le Cottage. Founded by Georges Bise 1931, the Cottage is an important part of Talloires history! In honor of that legacy, we are honored to share one of their family recipes for a rich, delicious gâteau au chocolat.

Learning in Action

Each year, we ensure that the courses offered in Talloires integrate a thematic excursion to a relevant site in the region. Every site-specific experience encourages students to learn outside the classroom and witness the real-life applications of their classes. Here are some of the places where our faculty have taken students over the years.

Brendan Ng A19 reflects on Talloires

Four Summers

Working as an intern at the European Center was "the highlight of my time as an undergrad at Tufts," writes Brendan Ng. Brendan spent four summers in Talloires, supporting the students on our programs, taking care of the building, and getting to know the region well. Read more about his experiences as he looks back!
