

Springing ahead with virtual programs and engaging events

Spring is on the horizon, and we at the Tufts University European Center are looking toward a new and exciting summer! Our programs will take place in a virtual format in 2021, opening the door to opportunities for innovation and creativity. (Read more about this below.) Although we are saddened not to be in Talloires again this summer, we are delighted to explore the unique approaches that our faculty have developed for their courses, and to continue building the Talloires community through an online platform. Our commitment to international voices, intercultural learning, and the global exchange of ideas remains stronger than ever!

Program Highlights

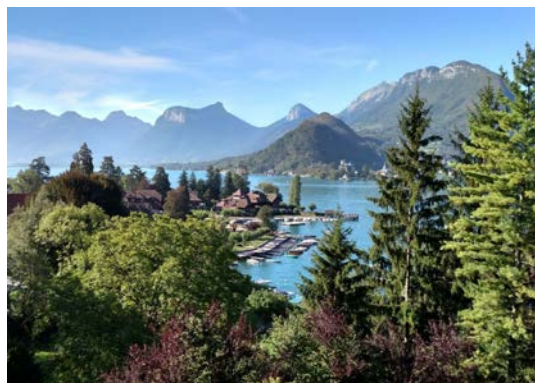

Fruit + custard = delicious!

Clafoutis? Yes, please!

Looking for a simple dessert that is warm and fruit-filled? Look no further than clafoutis. This classic French dessert combines fruit and a custard-like filling, the perfect food for a transition from cold winter into the vibrancy of spring. Whether you use cherries, blackberries, or even apples, this dish is sure to delight. Try it at home and let us know how it goes!

Tous à la cuisine!

Our continued commitment to bridging cultures

Adapting to a Virtual Format

In light of the ongoing pandemic and the continued limitations on international travel, we have decided to adopt a virtual format for our Tufts in Talloires and Tufts Summit programs for 2021. Although a virtual community cannot replace face-to-face interactions, we're excited about the new ways we'll provide engaging international content for our students.

The Power of Language

Trang Hoang, Class of 2022, reflects on her experiences in Talloires through the lens of language. Taking a leap of faith, Trang decided to come to France - and quickly reaped the rewards.
